From the President

Dear Friend of Angel,

It is the goal of Angel Foundation to truly make a difference in the lives of local adults with cancer and their children. In 2013, the impact of our important work was evident. Together with you, our vital partners, we achieved some very significant accomplishments:

- We assisted more families than ever before in need of emergency financial assistance, surpassing the $4 million mark in total dollars distributed since our inception.
- We continued to grow our education and support programs for families, including hiring two past participants of our Facing Cancer Together program to direct our Teen Outreach and Teen Mentoring programs.
- We hosted our first-ever Urban Adventures Kids Kamp.
- We launched our AngelPack resource kits for children, given to parents at clinics and hospitals who are newly diagnosed with cancer.

There is much more work to be done. We need your assistance in not only financial support, but in sharing the Angel Foundation story with others in our community who can benefit from our Emergency Financial Assistance and Facing Cancer Together programs — free, local and crucial resources for adults facing cancer and their children.

The future is bright for Angel Foundation — especially because of wonderful partners like you. I am grateful for each of you and the many ways you have joined with us to further our mission. Thank you for believing and investing in our important work and for making a vital difference in the lives of families facing cancer in our communities.

Sincerely,

Mark Wilkening

Our Programs

Since 2001, Angel Foundation has provided more than $4 million in emergency financial assistance and has helped more than 20,000 people through our two program areas.

Emergency Financial Assistance

Angel Foundation provides emergency financial assistance to adults in active treatment for cancer in the Twin Cities. The funds pay for non-medical basic needs such as food, gas, utilities and rent or mortgage payments.

Facing Cancer Together

Parents with a cancer diagnosis and their children receive accurate, age-appropriate information about cancer and its effects on the family. Participants have the opportunity to ask questions, share fears and access support.

Through our many Facing Cancer Together events, families receive the education and support needed to gain lasting skills that not only strengthen, but forge resilience in the whole family.

The Minnesota Charities Review Council’s Standards of Accountability state that at least 70% of an organization’s annual expenses should be for program activity, with not more than 30% for management, general and fundraising expenses combined. In 2013, Angel Foundation exceeded this standard by directing 74% of our expense back into programming for the cancer participants and their families we serve.
2013 Angel Highlights

JAN. 26
We kick off the year with our most successful Angel Gala ever: More than 600 guests attend the 11th annual gala, generating more than $440,000. This single important night sets the stage for giving and growth for the entire year.

MAY 15
The Facing Cancer Together AngelPack program officially launches at two clinics. These backpacks, given free of charge to families after a cancer diagnosis, are filled with information and supportive items for children to establish open communication and help the family navigate the cancer experience together.

JUNE 11
We debut our Urban Adventures Kids Kamp. The neighborhood around our office fills with the joyful sight of kids 5-12 years old in Angel Foundation’s Facing Cancer Together program joining us for a free day of exploring the Minneapolis Mill District. (Based on this success, the 2014 Urban Adventures Kids Kamp expands to two days in August.)

JULY 1
For the second consecutive year, we increase our Emergency Financial Assistance grant amount, allowing these crucial grants to do even more for those most in need.

JULY 29
Our most successful Angel & Eagles Golf Classic ever generates $170,000 for Angel Foundation.

AUG. 6-8
A record number of campers turn out for Angel Foundation’s summer Kids Kamp 2013. More than 100 children and 100 volunteers and staff members gather at Eden Wood Center for three days of fun and friendship.

OCT. 3
The return of fall heralds the annual Angel & Divas fashion event, this year at the Graves 601. More than 150 attendees join us for fun, fashion and support of Angel Foundation programs.

DECEMBER
We wrap up the year with a flurry of giving... culminating in awarding the highest number of Emergency Financial Assistance grants in a year ever: 1,416. We are thankful for the support of so many in helping us serve these families.

Thank you, Rudolphs!

We are constantly delighted by the creative ideas people and organizations come up with to support Angel Foundation. Among the shining examples in 2013 was a unique partnership with Rudolphs Bar-B-Que. For the entire 2013 calendar year, Rudolphs Bar-B-Que donated a portion of proceeds from every bottle of barbecue and coleslaw sauce sold to Angel Foundation.

The products were available at many Byerly’s, Coborn’s, Cub Foods, Festival Foods, Wabaskikan, Lund’s, Rainbow Foods and a multitude of other stores in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Thank you, Rudolphs Bar-B-Que for generously donating to Angel Foundation!
"There’s such a thing at Angel Foundation about living with cancer," says Heather. "Every Angel event we do fills our cup. It just feels good. It’s like being surrounded by angels.

From participating in Angel & Dras’s model to working among kids, Vincent and Caroline, in Kids Kamp to receiving emergency financial assistance, Heather knows first-hand how support and education while facing cancer can help.

“We needed money, and Angel Foundation was there," says Heather. "When I didn’t know what to do with the kids, Angel Foundation said, ‘We have a camp.’ I almost can’t speak about it because it is just so beautiful.”

Heather

The first shock came when 37-year-old Heather learned she had breast cancer. After treatment and reconstruction, she and husband Tom were hopeful. Almost two years later, she learned it had spread to her brain. The shock of the cancer’s return meant she and her family needed to learn to live with cancer on a daily basis, and that is when they turned to Angel Foundation.

Dan

The transition from middle school to high school is not easy for anyone. For Dan, it was feeling isolated from peers because his mom was diagnosed with stage 3 breast cancer and he felt the responsibility to be the man of the house. Then he found Angel Foundation.

“I did not want anyone to feel bad for me but to just remind me that they were there,” Dan says. “Angel Foundation not only gave me the opportunity to escape the world of cancer — by attending Wild games or learning to cook pasta or rock climb — but rather a place where cancer wasn’t taboo. Angel was a place where I could just be a teen and not have to feel cancer weighing me down.”

Dan continued his connection with Angel Foundation by becoming a volunteer teen mentor, a role that allowed him to share his experiences with other teens, and finally, as a staff member, as the organization’s teen outreach coordinator. “Angel to me is empowerment when stricken with cancer,” says Dan.

“When cancer hit our house, and our little world was knocked around quite a bit, Angel Foundation was there. When we needed financial help, Angel Foundation was there. When our children’s fragile and frightened hearts needed reassurance, Angel Foundation was there. When we found out it had moved to my brain, Angel Foundation was there. When we were emotionally drained and feeling raw and alone, Angel Foundation was there. How comforting to know that, through every step of the shocking, fearful and yes, sometimes the beautiful, parts of cancer, Angel Foundation will be there. Thank you for all that you do.”

— Heather, Facing Cancer Together participant and Emergency Financial Assistance recipient
